

Related reading suggestions for Grief and Loss in Addiction:

BOOKS:

Grief Counseling & Grief Therapy, J. William Worden, 1991.

The Last Dance: Encountering Death and Dying, Lynne A. DeSpelder & Albert. L. Strickland, 1998.

Attig, T. (2001). Relearning the world: Making and finding meaning. In R. A. Neimeyer, Meaning Reconstruction & the Experience of Loss (pp. 33-54), Washington, DC: American Psychological Association.

ARTICLES:

Barbato. A., & Irwin. H. (1992). Major therapeutic systems and the bereaved client. Australian Psychologist, 27, 22-27.

Goldsworthy, K. Kellie (2005). Grief and loss theory in social work practice: All changes involve loss, just as all losses require change. Australian Social Work 58 (2), 167-178.

Hazan, C., & Shaver, P. (1987). Romantic love conceptualized as an attachment process. Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, 52, 511-524.

ON LINE ARTICLES:

"Overcoming Stages of Grief and Loss"

(<http://www.hopelinks.net/addiction-treatment/grief-loss/overcoming.html>)

"The Role of Grief and Loss in Addiction Recovery"

(http://oxbowexpeditions.net/articles/grief_add_recov.php)